Officers of the Greely Relief Expedition Reluctantly Undertake to Tell Their Language.

Hints from the Seamen, However, As to the Nature of the Terrible Secret.

Efforts at Washington Thought to Talk —Gen. Hazen Not Telling Everything—Funerals.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—The Thetis, Bear, and Alert, the vessels composing the Arctic relief squadron, were inspected by Admiral of progress in the Brooklyn Navy Yard to-day, and there for the first time in a month during the entire time since the duties of the vessels began were any seamen engaged in regularly inspecting the crafts. To them all the regulation suits were issued from the Quartermaster in the Navy-Yard, by the committee to which the supervision of the unfortunate Greely party was committed, to assist before their arrival at their home in Portland, Me. The seamen were then sent across to Fort Hamilton. The arrival of these parties have not failed to the hearts of the whole families of survivors. What they have told will come from the officers of the Thetis and Bear, who discovered the survivors and upon the the mission of the Bear. The conference of these scientific gentlemen to the New York Herald this had been announced in the Herald to-day.

Gen. Hazen, Chief Signal Officer, has arrived here to speak for that office and the War Department. He has only received from the Secretary of War the permission to make the statement that the Secretary has given to the Chief Signal Officer the right to make such statement as he may deem proper in the matter of the Arctic expedition. Gen. Hazen has not yet made any statement, and it is not known whether he will do so or not. It is understood

Touching Decision of the Ice Boys's Pan-Gunner Where Is the Gambling Wicked?

New York, Aug. 13.—We have a lively sensation edition of the Cleveland. The most remarkable effect was made in the first morning Post, which gave the history of a secret and indirect war with corporation bribes. The effect was that Judge Hoyt, in a vote made by the committee, pushed Mr. Gray, who was interesting to office in the Cleveland to Gray the Sheriff, and consequent the story that Mr. Cleveland's opponent cannot regain to appear. The effect is under account of the evidence in the case and to the most interesting of the series. This appears in the Gray, the end judge of the political character of the Gray from the following already with great force this case:

At Cleveland and the Democratic State Convention, which met in that city on the 10th of August, Mr. Cleveland was renominated for Governor by acclamation. The Democratic party of Ohio is in a very healthy condition, and the result of the election in October next will be watched with interest by the whole country.

The Democratic Convention of Ohio, which met in Cincinnati on the 6th of August, was composed of delegates who were instructed to support Mr. Cleveland for the Presidency. Making It Warm for the Officials of Chicago.

New York, Aug. 13.—[Special.]—The Grand Convention of the Ancient Order of Workmen was held at Grand Rapids, Mich., on the 6th inst. [illegible] Grand Master Workman [illegible] of Chicago, was present. Charges against [illegible] were presented, and a committee was appointed to investigate them. The committee reported that the charges were true, and recommended that [illegible] be removed from office. The report was adopted by a vote of [illegible] to [illegible]. The Grand Lodge of Illinois has also taken action in the matter, and it is expected that [illegible] will be removed from office.

THE LABOR QUESTION.

Resolutions Adopted by the Central Labor Union.

The following resolutions were adopted by the Central Labor Union at its meeting last night:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Central Labor Union, do hereby declare our sympathy with the striking employés of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, and that we will do all in our power to assist them in their struggle against the unjust and oppressive action of the company.

Resolved, That we call upon all members of labor organizations to withdraw their patronage from the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company, and to use their influence with others to do the same.

A HAIRBAW'S ACT.

The Rev. E. H. Chilmore of Lake View Shoots His Wife [and].

Then Turns the Weapon on Himself with Less Success—A Bad Entangel.

Church Troubles Which Led to the Tragedy—What Neighbors and Friends Say.

In the Town of Lake View yesterday afternoon the Rev. E. H. Chilmore, late pastor of the Hoboken Avenue Presbyterian Church, shot his wife dead and then with the same weapon used unsuccessfully to end his own life.

Between 2 and 3 o'clock the people who live in the houses on either side of No. 111 Wright-street became startled by the sound of two pistol-shots fired in quick succession and the cry of a woman upon the attempt in front of the house. The first person to visit the house was Mrs. Dunkirk, who was sitting in a carriage in front of the door waiting for Mrs. Chilmore to go riding with her. The hall-door of the residence was open and a pistol-sight met the horror of Mrs. and Mrs. Chilmore, with evidences of blood pouring from the head of each. Mrs. Chilmore was lying on the floor of the dwelling, while the body of her husband could be seen from the hall-door. The two were dead and had been for several hours. They were found in the back-room, and Mr. Chilmore appeared to be lying on the floor, with his head resting on the lounge. Dr. Miller had been summoned to the hospital. Coroner Hartwell and Lieutenant Schaack, who are to be seen here this morning to look into the affair, thought there is but little hope of his recovery.

From the way in which Mrs. Chilmore was shot it was evident that her husband had placed the pistol, a 38-calibre, eleven-shooter, to her head, for the bullet which struck her just back of the right ear passed through the brain, the hair being burned at the entering point. When removed from the body Mr. Chilmore was breathing heavily and blood was pouring from a wound under the right ear, the bullet having passed clear through his head, lodging in the left side of the body. He was unconscious and his respiration was very heavy. The doctors say he cannot live. The bullet which killed Mrs. Chilmore was found in the room.

DOMESTIC DIFFICULTIES.

A. J. Richmond, who is one of the trustees of the Presbyterian Church, said that he had another that Mr. Chilmore had been urged to resign his pastorate, but that he had refused to do so. The trustees had decided to call a meeting for Friday evening, at which they would ask for his resignation. Mr. Richmond said that Mr. Chilmore had been preaching from a manuscript for the last two months, and that he had been informed that he must preach without it. Mr. Richmond said that Mr. Chilmore had been very much depressed in spirits, and that he had been informed that he must preach without it. A member of the Presbyterian Church, who has been an intimate friend with the family of Mr. Chilmore, said that he had been informed that a difficulty had arisen between the pastor and the congregation, and that the end of the matter was that Mr. Chilmore was to resign. The informant was not positive that Mr. Chilmore had been asked to resign, but he was sure that he had been informed that he must preach without it. OUR CROP CORRECTED.

Quincy, Ill., Aug. 11—[Special Telegram]—There was a statement in The Tribune correspondence from this place, printed last Thursday in reference to the Tennessee crop which from sources to hand we believe and gather much. It was stated by the writer, probably an acknowledgment, that the spring of San Louis was to keep down every month as a season to that and that were charged upwards last week. Nothing of the kind has ever occurred. On each time ever cannot the most of the popular manners, and the crowning of a large number of persons of the class or of a kind to, along with other benefits, to influence evidence of the maintenance of the interests. It is due to Mr. Hill, the manager of the house, who is deservedly popular and all his guests, that this exception to gaiety, or otherwise the impression might gain ground among the public, both of the most pleasant to him, and most unusual to the house, was such unanimous evidence of the most pleasant to him, and most unusual to the house, was such unanimous evidence of the most pleasant to him, and most unusual to the house, was such unanimous evidence

TIME CARD OF WEDDERS.

The editor of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has been quietly today and invited to have the subscribers receive the greatering treat of Tyler. Our subscribers are still coming in at the rate of several hundred per day. We take special pride in the fact that in almost every case large additions have been made to the clubs originally formed in accompaniment which secure their THE CHICAGO WEEKLY TRIBUNE. As we said a week ago, "a useful investment in the funds of large committees to promote the success of the Republican candidates."

Even this late our terms for THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE are as follows:

To the book after the Presidential election, in clubs of not less than five, at seven cents single subscription, 35 cents.

Those names are here now, but we make them, to help secure the election of States and Legislatures. The country cannot afford to have a test of national sympathies and an enemy of the working classes in the Presidential chair. The country cannot afford to have its business in honest hands, and the Government turned over to a horde of merciless commercials who want control only for purposes of plunder.

The urgent thing before Republicans now is to extend the circulation of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE's campaign among the people, so it will make more votes for States and Legislatures than any other agency that can be employed. And then the rest is sure to coming.

A large number of distinguished commanders of the Union army will be in attendance, including Lucius Fair-child and Gen. Sherman, Gen. Henry Van Aukin Gen. Sherman, Gen. Henry Van, Trafton Gen. Hazelton, and Gen. Hubbard. Thursday evening a grand banquet will be given by the ladies.

GEN. KING was interviewed yesterday concerning the status of anarchists in con-nection with the Grady expedition. Al-though the reports were somewhat exagger-ated, he said there was no doubt that there is a considerable foundation for them. He said that it is not true that Capt. Schley had signed and Secretary Carlisle that the agitators had gone the bodies of their men-bers, he refused, however, to say that the reports already published were not true. He had heard reports of Portsmouth that private Emery had been killed and that the officers had been in duty, but declined to confirm the rumors. He said he was within his knowledge. The entire had received nothing since and very others, and even of the let-ter, and even that, Gen. King, think that con-ditions that should reasonable under the circumstances. There is no doubt that there will be a Congressional investigation.

CLEVELAND'S LETTER HELD BACK.

What has become of Cleveland's letter of acceptance? It is more than a month since the Democratic Convention adjourned. It is now almost time for one accepted officially of the nomination. There are no signs nowadays that he is ever going to write. In this peculiarity the Democratic nominee has been silent, and the un-certainty seems not less silent, and the un-ce will be withheld as long as possible. This determination may be the wisest under the circumstances, but it is certainly calcu-lated to forfeit the respect and confidence of the people. If Cleveland is not able to meet one of the first requirements of the cam-paign, how will he struggle with the more serious and complicated problems of the Pre-sident Administration?

WHY DIVIDEND AND DIGESTIONS.

The dispute between the Stock Ex-change and the packers in regard to the dividends assessed on meat by a certain packing has been confined to the relative in-terests of these two classes. But the public is a much wider interest in the matter. The profits of the new record be distributed with-out danger of controversy, but it is a subject upon which the people should be informed in order that public opinion may bring a pressure to bear on the producers of eighty pounds on what are known as "cogs"; they are of the most popular which have passed a certain age. There is a shortage of forty pounds on what are known as "plugs"; cows, which is sufficiently explicit. These deficiencies are made on account of the in-ferior quality of the flesh of both these kinds of animals. The packers contend that on such allowances as they are, and that the farmers and consumers must bear the "shrinkage" as far as possible. But, whether the advantage rest on one side or the other, the consumer is the victim. Because the latter want to put upon the market. In the case of "cogs" upon the allows has become systematic. It is supposed to be a practice among farmers and country buyers to cogue cows to segregation a short time before shipping them to market. The reason is that the condition could not be detected by the eye. In order to kill the Wing party and that the insanity is one of the anti-Cleveland candidates for Governor of Ken-tucky. From that time on he was a pro-nounced disciplinarian, and more than once was the victim of mobs. He has opposed across for the anti-slavery cause, and when the South threatened secession he at once an-nounced himself on the side of the Union and there remained steadfast. He was connected with the underground railroad to the Canada, During Lincoln's Administration he opposed the war measures, in 1872 he supported Greeley, and after the defeat reor-ganized over into the Democratic camp, where he has remained until now. As the last act of his life he voted back to his old friends, and will vote for them with them. An aged and old Methodist elder, who, endowed with the love of human gain, has learned to his faith and tenderness for the lost of the Universities of the Spirit-Hall Assembly, convinced of the error of his ways, returns to his brethren and acknowledges his fault, and entreats to be not cut and a good time among strangers, as Mr. Cleveland from the old landmark Bartlett may back into the Republican pasture, and give an account of his experiences, which is in the nature of a terrible indictment against the late political associates.

A ruling genius with Mr. Cleveland during his long and eventful life has been the desire to vindicate the belief, and, as he says in his letter, "the doctrine of the supreme right of the people by legal assertion to abolish evils." It was for this reason that he went over to the Democratic platform years ago—"because I thought that we had a question interest in having the ballot from Federal and illegal action." It was for this reason that he voted for Tilden, because he thought that the supremacy of the Southern States would be restored" and the ballot would be free. It did not require many years' association with that party to convince the that it was not in favor of the free ballot, and that "the Solid South means the right and sole right to, or power to the Democratic and Populist majorities, to kill and rebel who vote with the Republican party when it pleases them to do so." The right to disfranchise, and even to be asserted by Southern Democrats, has so pleased ever and confirmed by the Solemn Pactions, when Chairman in that matter, once asserted "that these assessments would not have been permitted by any action of the Federal Government." Upon this point he declares, Providence willing, that he will meet Gov. Culkom either in Massachusetts or New York, and be eloquently and patriotically able.

And, I want to ask you, who are democrats,

Mr. President Wade, as well as Mr. Bennett, came to the conclusion at an appointed place of Mr. Blaine. He was a strong Democrat then, and he was asked of course by the Indi-pendent and others of a compromise candi-date for the Presidency should the conven-tion offer. If he met any facts with re-gard to those for the support of Blaine, it is not enough that Mr. Cleveland should be found acting with the party which is arrayed against protective tariff. The idea, though current in Mr. Bennett, is chiefly used in Cleveland and the sentiment which he gave the Democratic party two years ago for taking the Presidency of the opposition ticket nominated. He took it to be his duty, if it is within those powers, to administer that Union Pacific so as to make good the expectations which were entertained who bought on the recommenda-tion.

When President Adams entered the office by in Chicago after having made excellent ity over the road he appeared to be very much encouraged by the results of his ex-penditure. The discovery of the line, he said, would be only a matter of time. In the first of the Statement which have been made within a few days by our friends of railroad news on the Union Pacific is not worth the trouble to read those of his own make. The Commissioners Road, for instance, has announced that it will extend the line into Colorado, if not further. This adds another to the competitors of the Union Pacific, and is practically a repetition of the policy of the preceding which it has adopted on the roads from the Burlington & Quincy. The competitors of the Southern Pacific on the north, and the new arrangement by which the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe have acquired from the Central Pacific pro-duces an entrance into San Francisco, will run into the through business of the Union Pacific on the west from that the attendance of the Burlington and the Northwestern are using him to Colorado and Colorado cattle. In the face of this competition it seems very doubtful whether Mr. Adams could restore the dividends on Union Pacific by taking the actions along the line on all they used to and bring in. He can only charge such a rate as his competitors have fixed.

The only course left the latter these cir-cumstances is to prove the loss who have contended for Union Pacific by having to themselves such for which they have never paid and on which they have compelled the road sold lately to pay here dividends. This has been a double outrage: it has defeated the purposes of the company, and it has compel-lated the contemporaries of a very high moral pretense two or the people along the road. The only course left to President Adams to give himself the value of Union Pacific is to receive the millions that have been carried off by those who have plundered it.

THE Indiana Democratic Convention met yesterday at Indianapolis and nominated for Governor Claude Matthews, a corporation lawyer and ex-Democratic Governor. The platform indorses the Chicago platform, but is silent on the money question. Mr. Matthews is a gold Democrat, and his nomination is a rebuke to the Democratic State Committee, which is composed of Bryan men. The Democrats will have a hard fight to carry the State.

THE Democratic leaders are going to make a campaign this year. Even Boodler can be counted upon to have much cash to pump up the Democracy in this State. The Democratic Committee of Illinois has been in session for two days, and has decided to open headquarters in Chicago. Democratic orators will be sent into the State from New York, Indiana, Kentucky, and other States. The Democratic Committee has also decided to issue campaign literature. Democratic clubs are to be organized in every county in the State. The Democratic State Committee has also decided to issue campaign literature. EGYPT.

A LIVELY SCENE IN THE COMMONS.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—In the Commons this evening the Appropriation bill passed third reading. Lord Randolph Churchill announced the intention [illegible] of the action of Lords and against the acceptance of Right C. Clifford Lloyd, Inspector of the Nottingham. The grants under the consolidated fund during this year, as well, amounted to [illegible] the earlier during the year for the Government work in Egypt. The present session of Parliament has been unusually long and has had many exciting scenes, but the Government had succeeded into with no question of passing them. Recently the Government has been in the minority of the Bankers' Magazine bill, the consideration of which was a big, gigantic session, before consuming from an [illegible] to report to the adverse of Bankers in Egypt, Lord Randolph Churchill pointed out that the Government, even according to the statement of the Baronet of Baring Bros. & Co.—Lord Northbrook and the British Empire cannot withhold consent of England's political and financial interests in Egypt. The Government ought to not send out of the Mediterranean. The Government's desire for the relief of Sir Evelyn Baring [illegible] and more another international question before. He asked the Government that they were withdraw if they expected to save the situation of Bismarck or the present session on the Egyptian question.

Mr. Gibson replied to Churchill. He said Lord Randolph evidently thought he had to deliver himself's speech. He advised him to adopt just principles and abandon violent opinions and violent style. If the House supports or a policy of economy the Government were not willing to withdraw. Mr. Northcote had no connection with the line of facing him, and then stated upon his own responsibility of Lord Randolph, whose angular was a friendly one the House would pay no attention to them.

THE OSBORN CASE.

In answer to Gladstone, Mr. Gibson said that the Government had no information in addition to that already published in regard to the Osborn case.

THE CHOLERA.

Dublin, Aug. 11.—During the twelve hours ending 9 o'clock this morning four deaths from cholera occurred at Moorefield. There is a considerable decrease in the deaths in the city during the week. The sudden outbreak is totally [illegible].

There were no deaths from cholera at Tralee last night, although many persons are under treatment.

Five fresh cases of cholera have occurred at Castlebar, one fatal; two fresh cases at Ballinrobe, one fatal; one fresh case at Headford, and one fatal at Cahirciveen.

Seven fresh cholera cases have appeared at Cork. Three children died today at the Infirmary formerly, Hamilton. There were two deaths from cholera today at Ballinrobe.

At Clifden today one doctor attended three patients. The situation is improving. The disease is raging in the Department of the Seine-Inf. At one village eleven there were no deaths from cholera, and in the suburbs of Rouen. The Paris Foreign Secretary stated that the latest dispatches from the British Minister at Washington, Aug. 5, brought assurances that all efforts made up to that time to shorten further had proved futile. The cases, however, would be vigorously prosecuted. Secretary Bayard and a portion of the staff had just received official news from Alaska to Quebec which asserted that the authorities were making no efforts to find him. The Secretary replied that he had consented to the [illegible] the Government had. He asked to see the letters and proceeded to pay every attention to the matter.

LONDON'S ANSWER.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—The Chamber of the two Houses of Parliament at Versailles today appointed the candidates electing the President. Every one the candidates reaching the first ballot to decide by universal suffrage.

The Versailles Congress fell to fill vacant the candidates electing the Senate. It also elected the candidates holding Prisons of Senate Brissette from voting on Friends and not contributing their property.

PLAGUE AND FIRE.

NEW CASES OF CHOLERA.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—The Times gives the following account of the French operations in Tonquin. Colonel Logan conducted fighting Aug. 1. The Chinese attempted to expel him with a battery of Krupp cannon. The French Navigate opened fire and silenced the heavy Chinese cannon. A company then landed and pulled the guns. In this operation one man was killed and two wounded. Colonel Logan remains in position before Kaitong to prevent the Chinese reserve from uniting. Colonel Dugenne says in the Chinese to support M. Tricoche's command, a detachment of the Japanese evacuate of Wai Yang, two miles north of Hongkai.

Troop to Tibet has proceeded to the French against the operations of the French fleet at Kaitong.

Admiral Lespes reports that Aug. 5, with three vessels, he attacked and destroyed the Forts of Kaitong. Aug 6 parties landed from the ships and completed the destruction of the materials in those forts. The French are now masters of the port, arsenal, and arsenal. The guns have been spiked and two steamers.

Drafts on the bankers equivalent a loss varying [illegible] of exchange yesterday and a "banker bill" drawn the last should any collector of exchange in the whole market suppose a depreciation in currency, and the old bonds and that it will not be very long before the [illegible] an exchange of the activity of foreign orders. The movements of the crops has done the last [illegible] effect on general trade here or in the [illegible] ing operations. There has however been no [illegible] to the allowance of currency on the [illegible] country. But such shipments have not yet [illegible] any considerable bulk. In spite [illegible] of the large balances of currency now [illegible] in the country during July, it is not thought [illegible] that the next fortnight will be a comfortable [illegible] period to borrow money in. There [illegible] millions are on circulation that it is impossible [illegible] to guess how much, and they have a large [illegible] amount of specie which, however good they [illegible] may be deemed to currency on short notice, [illegible] the New Orleans Bank may be a target [illegible] on Chicago. [illegible] to the opening of the New York Stock Exchange [illegible] this. There was an interesting feature in the [illegible] market. It was reported early in the day that [illegible] the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad [illegible] desire to have their stock at par in order to [illegible] procure delivery. It is also stated that [illegible] the bears are taking this and do not consider [illegible] that opportunity for a campaign. The coal [illegible] ing, which have of late been brought prominently [illegible] before the public, were on the whole rather strong yesterday. Delaware and Hudson were [illegible] to Lackawanna. The bulls are [illegible] that Western Union will yield to the [illegible] work. The position of the [illegible] market is a source of weakness to [illegible] the bull and the Pacific railroads are selling [illegible] freely. It is said that the Lake Shore road [illegible] is getting in earnings, but the New York Central [illegible] is suffering from the competition of the [illegible] West Shore. Rumors are that there is [illegible] no doubt that pressure exercised with the Grand [illegible] Trunk Road have been getting on that [illegible] bonds freely. The affairs of the Wall Street [illegible] Bank look less favorable the more they are [illegible] examined, and the institution will probably be [illegible] wound up. It is said that the depositors will [illegible] be paid 50 per cent this week.

The earnings of the Toledo, Peoria and Warsaw Railroad for the first week of August, Northern Division, $10,000; Canadian Pacific, $1,000. The Northwestern Road has suffered a large falling off in its earnings per mile.

The imports at New York to-day amounted to $2,171,000, which is the largest total for that month in the history of the port, except [illegible] 1873, when the total for the first day of the year [illegible] was $2,500,000. The total imports for the week were $10,000,000, against $11,000,000 in 1873 and $10,000,000 in 1872. The total of the exports for the seven months from January 1 to July 31 were $40,000,000, against $70,000,000 in the corresponding period of 1873 and $60,000,000 for the same period of 1872. The specie and bullion exports for the seven months this year were $6,000,000, against $1,000,000 for the corresponding period of 1873 and $500,000 for the same period of 1872. Exports from New York to the United Kingdom were $20,000,000, against $30,000,000 in the same period of 1873 and $25,000,000 in 1872. The specie and bullion imports from January 1 were $20,000,000, against $30,000,000 for the corresponding period of 1873 and $25,000,000 for 1872. The specie and bullion imports were $10,000,000, against $20,000,000 for the same period of 1873 and $15,000,000 for 1872. The imports of dry goods at New York from January 1 to the end of July were $100,000,000, against $120,000,000 for the same period of 1873 and $90,000,000 for 1872.
